

We will work together to ensure that everyone follows our values in school:

Honesty
Equality
Aspiration
Responsibility
Respect
Resilience
Trust

We will make sure that every child feels able to talk openly about their learning. The Pupil Council will work with the teachers on your behalf to share your ideas about how to make learning fun and engaging!

'Growing thoughtful learners and independent thinkers'

What are we doing this year to make our school an even better place to grow and learn?

Every member of the school community will work together to help you reflect on your learning and feel able to talk about it openly and confidently with all adults and other children.

We're working with you and your families to create a school where all children love learning. Your learning will have a clear purpose with interesting, engaging activities. We will provide as many opportunities as possible for learning outdoors.

We will set homework tasks that you enjoy and which extend your learning. We will listen to your comments and suggestions about homework.

We're making sure that all of you are inspired to write by providing lots of writing opportunities which are creative and fun! We will listen to your ideas and suggestions about what, when where and how you'd like to write.

We're making sure that you know how to improve your work, by involving you in your marking and by asking you to assess your own progress, telling us what you need extra help with or what your next steps could be. There will be a 'teacher-pupil' conversation in your books.

We will help you to use the key skills that every writer needs. We will work with you to create eye-catching displays that help you remember these skills.

We would like everyone to feel like confident, successful writers. Here's how we're going to help...

Our teachers and learning support assistants will ensure that every child is appropriately challenged in their writing. You will help us achieve this by talking to the grown-ups about your writing and how you feel about it.