NEWSLETTER 18: 25 June 2018

This week is National School Sports Week – a fantastic opportunity for us all to encourage our pupils to be more active and take part in sport! The PE team led assembly this morning to kick start the week.

Crossing Patrol update

You will probably have heard by now that Joan Rowland, our wonderful crossing patrol on Worthing Road, has broken her wrist. Sadly, she will not be able to work for the foreseeable future and we are unlikely to see her back this side of the summer holidays.

So many of you have kindly asked after Joan and we have passed on your many good wishes and kind thoughts which have been gratefully received by her.

West Sussex County Council have now trained Mrs Morris, Mrs Strong and Mr Strong and we are sure you won't have missed us in the new uniform they have also equipped us with!

As explained previously, it is not always possible for one of us to be on duty to help children and families cross, so please speak to your child/ren about road safety and make sure suitable arrangements are in place for them to get to and from school safely.

If there are any volunteers who would be happy to support in Joan's absence please contact the office so we can advise WSCC.

We have been very impressed with how polite and well mannered all of the children have been when crossing, always remembering to say thank you and waiting to be told when it is safe to cross. What brilliant young citizens!

Safeguarding at Summerlea

Keeping up to date with technology is really tricky as a parent or carer. A recent feature from the ParentZone website www.parentzone.org.uk gave some good advice about WhatsApp (see below)

WHAT PARENTS NEED TO KNOW ABOUT WHATSAPP

Minimum age restriction

The minimum age of use for WhatsApp is 16 years old. It had previously dropped to 13 years old but in April 2018 returned to 16, as a response to GDPR data-protection rules.

Like many age restrictions on social media apps, some children may ignore this and sign up for WhatsApp when they're younger. It's up to you as a parent to decide if you're comfortable with this or not.

WhatsApp's main purpose is to send messages to friends - it isn't public in the same way that Twitter is, and people can only message friends who are already added on their phone. As long as your child only has trusted people as contacts on their phone, it is a relatively safe social media app.

If this is the case, the only thing you'll need to make your child aware of is the fact that they can come into contact with strangers on group chats.

Group chats

The group chat function allows up to 256 people to chat in one conversation stream. Each group is set up by one person, known as the group admin, who is the only person who can add or remove participants and change or add further group administrators.

Anybody in the group, even if they're not one of your child's phone contacts, will be able to see messages that your child posts and likewise your child will be able to see theirs. Also, if your child is added to a group with someone they have themselves blocked, that person will then be able to contact them.

Although your child might not be able to control if they're added to a group chat, they can always control their own participation within it – they can leave whenever they want to.

To do this, when on the group's page, tap the 3 dots in the top right (or the name of the group at the top of the screen on an iPhone), then tap Group info, then EXIT GROUP in the red box at the bottom of the screen (or scroll down to Exit Group on an iPhone).

It's a good idea to talk to your child about group chats, stating the risks and showing them how to exit a group if they're invited to one that has people in it that they don't know.

Parent & Carer Online Safety Survey

The Community Safety and Wellbeing Team (CSWB) is asking West Sussex Parents & Carers for their views and experiences in relation to keeping their children safe online.

They are looking to establish what parents and carers main concerns are when parenting in the digital age and what challenges they have faced. They want to understand how confident parents and carers are when dealing with these issues and if they know where to go for help, advice & support.

They want to know about the types of resources parents utilise, are aware of and have available to them, as well as the resources they really value in helping them to better support their young people.

The aim of the survey is to assist the team in identifying if any further resources that may need to be developed, or to raise awareness of existing resources and how the team can better support West Sussex parents and carers.

Please follow this link to the survey:

Don't Lose it Label it!

Visit www.nametape.co.uk or www.premiernametapes.com quoting reference 501444 and as well as being able to track down your child's property our school will also benefit.

Facebook Reminder

If you have a school related concern, the best possible route to resolve this is to come and talk to us! Airing concerns on Facebook will resolve nothing and will in fact, in all likelihood, make it worse. Whether in open or closed groups we do get to hear about Facebook conversations/posts. If you feel there is an issue that is important to you and your child, please talk to us in the first instance. Thank you.
